

Rutherford Heavy Duty Picnic Table

Model Number

UFPT-6

With its rich textures, clean lines, and architectural appeal, the Urban Form Picnic Table was created as a complement to the rest of the Urban Form Series. This model is the perfect showcase of our intentional design philosophy, specifically waste reduction. Using short lumber lengths in the seats allows us to use our own waste material (often cut offs) created in-house. The tongue-and-groove plastic lumber also minimizes the number of fasteners needed, making replacement of damaged boards simple. As with the rest of the series, the Urban Form Picnic Table has a finished look on every edge and surface. The plastic lumber is raised slightly on the seat and table tops to soften the edges and create a more comfortable seating surface. The table is available by itself or with any combination of long or short bench seating. A shorter bench on one side can permit wheelchair access. By omitting the side panels, a different, more open look can be created with the exact same basic design.
